This afternoon
I was watching a movie
Not a happy or exciting one
It was slow in plot
I was in a hurry
I could see myself in the leading role
Not communicative
Unwilling to be social
Talk in an abnormal way
Staying in my own world
Being sad and scared
When the ex-wife approached him
She wanna apologize for what she said to him
After the house was accidentally on fire
And the fire took the kids away
It was hard for him to talk it out
Because deep down
He couldn't forgive himself
That's when the tears started to stream down
I could see a little girl curling up at the corner
Burying her head in the legs
At that moment
I could feel relieved
And rarely peaceful
Maybe because the little girl inside was seen
It brought my tears down again
That when his nephew saw the photos of his kids
On the nightstand

It was still haunting in his mind
So he was not be able to raise him
Until 18
It's not easy to let go of the sadness even though you tried and tried
Like he said to his nephew
I can't beat it.
I want to take care of the little girl
From now on
Even though she is not around often
The big girl is always there to tell her
It is so stupid to be sad and scared and anxious
Just like everybody else
So the little girl just ran away
