歌曲歌词

In the year of our lord 1239

There once lived a girl of a royal line

The ancient stories do recall ?

She was the fairest of them all

In a castle made of stone

Every night she slept alone

Any noice that would raise the dead

Couldn't wake her sleepyhead

A stranger came from a foreign land

Asking for the maiden's hand

Her father said no go away

She's gonna marry a king one day

The stranger he came back again

Riding with 10 thousand men

The battle cries filled all with dread ?

But couldn't wake her sleepyhead

The fighting lasted all day long

But the castle walls were thick and strong

The stranger cried let her decide

Where her true affections lie

So the king knocked on her door

Only you can end this war

No one knows how the story ends

Did she ever wake again?

Will she ever wake again?
